

January

Journal Starts

Do you think that an animal in a zoo or in the wild has a better life? Keep in mind that animals in the zoo are fed and not hunted	Describe the best gift you ever gave to someone. Why was it such a great gift? Do you agree that giving is better than receiving?	Describe the advantages and disadvantages of having school uniforms	Describe at least three of your talents. remember that things like writing, being a good listener, and being a good student are all talents.	What would you like to do professionally as an adult? What type of training and education will you need to reach your goal?
What country would you most like to visit? What do you imagine a vacation there would be like.	Write for a while about secrets. You could describe a secret you kept for someone, a secret someone kept for you, or any other experience you've had with a secret.	What item of clothing do you really wish you had? What makes the item so special?	Describe your best friend.	Name some things in life you are thankful for.
What might your favorite childhood toy remember about you and the times you spent together?	How do you feel about thunderstorms? What are some of the factors that contribute to your opinion?	What is your favorite song? What do you think about when you hear the song?	Do you prefer to write using a pen and paper or a computer? Why?	How would mealtime be different if you had hundreds of teeth the size and shape of toothpicks?
Describe the bedroom of your dreams.	Imagine you are a television executive. Describe the new program you would like to produce. Who would star in it?	Write a story about a day in the life of a pesky fly.	Describe your bedroom from a mouse's perspective.	Imagine you have just been inaugurated as president of the United States. Write your first journal entry.
What kinds of books do you not enjoy reading? Explain your answer.	Describe your most memorable family outing.	What fashion trend would you like to begin for other students to imitate?	What do people's pets reveal about their personalities? Describe at least five examples.	If you could change your name, what would you change it to? Try to choose a name that reflects something about your personality or interests. Explain your choice.